New York Times
bestselling author Elle James's continuation of Covert Cowboys, Inc.
FBI agent Melissa

Bradley is used to cryptic assignments like this: retrieve package from PO Box and deliver to old friend. Package in hand, she's attacked by thugs—and she's not about to trust the tall, dark and dangerous rescuer who claims he was sent to protect her. A former navy SEAL turned cowboy suddenly reinstated as a SEAL, there's clearly more to James Monahan's covert op than he'll admit. When their mutual friend goes missing, they join forces deep in the swamplands of southern Mississippi to find him. But as a dangerous band of traitors, terrorists and killers close in, survival means trusting each other—their toughest mission yet.

Revelation DIANE

Publishing
Betrayed by his wife and filled with self-loathing, he joined the Army on his path to self-destruction. Fin McClain left Montana to escape his past. He joined the US Army to fight enemies of his country and his own internal demons in an attempt at redemption or suicide. On a mission in Syria, he fought alongside a woman they called the Angel of Death, a woman as fierce as she was beautiful. Mission complete, he never learned her name or where she was from. Finally coming home to Montana for the first time in years, he's unsure of his welcome. When he finds an injured woman staggering alongside the road, he's shocked to discover she's the woman from Syria. And she has no memory of him or their mission. She woke in the arms of a stranger... They called her Jane Smith. Found on a roadside, bruised, bloody and devoid of all memories, she's desperate to know her real name, where she's from or how she ended up in the arms of a man who claims he knows her but not her name. With a feeling of impending doom, she struggles to learn the truth about her existence and why she feels compelled to run. With Fin's help, Jane recovers from her injuries in time to fight an elusive enemy and discover why she ended up in Fin's arms and why she finds his damaged soul so compelling.

 Ex-Ranger and military dog handler Beck
 Gunnar wants nothing more than to get back into action and earn a spot on the Brotherhood Protectors team. After surviving a brutal mortar attack, both dog and handler face limitations caused by their wounds. Beck is in denial about his hearing loss, and King won't follow training to sniff out explosives.
 Veterinarian Danae Orestes packed up her Philadelphia life, put her ex-husband behind her, and started a new vet practice in rural Montana. After a life lived around domineering males, she's happy to be on her own. Then a new client, who is built like a Nordic God, walks into her office, sparking an interest that she thought had died. When she's plagued by threatening calls, Beck is the man Danae turns to...but do he and King have the skills to keep her safe?

Former Green Beret Max Thornton's career ended when he fell two hundred and fifty feet during a training exercise and broke nearly every bone in his body. Left with a permanent limp and in need of a job, he is recruited by Brotherhood Protectors where he can use his combat training and skills to protect, guard and rescue others. He didn't expect his first assignment to be the resident mechanic. Nor did he expect the mechanic to be a spitfire of a female with a whole lot of anger. Josephina Angelica Barrera-Ramirez or JoJo, as her friends call her, prefers to be left alone with the work she does on the machinery and vehicles of the Lost Valley Ranch. Suffering from situational amnesia brought on by an attack she sustained during a deployment to Afghanistan, she's touchy about being touched and doesn't take flak from anyone. When she becomes the target of a killer, a former Green Beret is assigned as her bodyguard. Forced to have the Green Beret around, her distrust of men is challenged and the wall around her heart crumbles. When danger threatens, Max and Jojo must fight their own fears to defeat evil while losing the battle of their hearts to win a future together.

The Whirlwind War Elle James

Le maître-chien de l'armée américaine, Joseph Kujo Kuntz, préalablement en service, et son chien, Six, font équipe avec une agente du FBI pour localiser et neutraliser un camp d'entraînement pour terroristes. Renvoyé de l'armée après avoir été touché par un éclat d'obus ayant provoqué une blessure qui, aujourd'hui encore, le fait boiter, Joseph Kujo Kuntz est en colère contre lui-même et contre le monde et il est obligé de recommencer à zéro avec le chien militaire blessé, Six, qui lui a sauvé la vie. Kujo accepte un emploi au sein de Brotherhood Protectors, au coeur des Crazy Mountains du Montana, dans l'espoir de trouver un nouveau but dans la vie et de surmonter ses pertes. Alors qu'elle suit une piste selon laquelle une faction terroriste se trouverait près d'Eagle Rock, dans le Montana, et s'entraînerait à lancer des attaques terroristes, l'agente du FBI, Molly Greenbriar, pense être sur une fausse piste. Se faisant passer pour une photographe d'une société de cartographie GPS, elle est en train de piloter un drone lorsqu'elle est agressée dans les montagnes et laissée pour morte. Découverte par Six et son maître, respectivement ancien chien militaire et ancien soldat en service, Molly est emmenée à la cabane du propriétaire, où il lui administre les premiers soins. Désormais la cible de la faction, cette femme est en danger. Kujo informe son nouveau patron de la situation et se voit assigner le poste de garde du corps de l'agente jusqu'à ce que l'équipe puisse neutraliser la source de la menace. Déterminée à mener à bien sa mission, Molly accepte la protection de Kujo et de Six et découvre qu'elle ressent une attirance électrique pour l'ancien soldat, d'apparence un peu rustre. Ils vont ensuite joindre leurs efforts pour chercher à localiser la faction alors qu'ils tentent désespérément de résister à leur désir grandissant.

Native American of the Blackfeet Nation, Lani Running Bear ends her service in the Army Military Police corps and returns to the reservation to help her people as a law enforcement officer. When members of her tribe turn up dead, she doesn't know who she can trust and calls on a man she'd busted while deployed. A man with the one qualification that would allow him to live on the reservation with her. Fresh out of the Army and new to Brotherhood Protectors, Zachariah Jones is prime for his first assignment as the undercover fiancé of a tribal police officer from the Blackfeet Reservation, a woman he'd butted heads with on deployment in Afghanistan. With tensions running high, Zach and Lani fight to find the killers before more lives are lost. When the killer targets Lani, Zach will do anything to keep the woman he's falling in love with safe. CMH Pub 50-1-1. Defense Studies Series. Discusses the evolution of the services' racial policies and practices between World War II and 1965 during the period when black servicemen and women were integrated into the Nation's military units. Montana Ranger Simon and Schuster Grieving Navy SEAL widower, John Decker, commemorating the two-year anniversary of the day he lived and his wife died, is dragged back into life by a riptide and a blonde he can't get out of his thoughts. Plagued with survivor's guilt, he's reluctant to enter a new relationship, until he meets a feisty bartender with attitude and curves to go with it. Roxi Lanier was the typical young teen in the city, happy, full of life and bulletproof, until she became the victim of a violent crime. Her mother moved her to Wellfleet on Cape Cod, away from the scene of her misfortune to start over. Fourteen years later, she's still afraid to date and be intimate with a man, the scars of her past overriding the happiness she craves. Though she's an independent owner of a thriving beach bar, she has yet to find success in love. Tides change when she witnesses a suicidal widower diving headfirst into a riptide. Decker and Roxi struggle to stay afloat through the wreckage of their pasts and the storms of the present to sail into a future together.
